

Gossip

Gossip is used to talk about other people, especially their private life. this conversation can be true or false.

everybody can gossip. people think of gossip as synonymous of malicious rumors, but I think is more that talking about people who aren't present. it's something very natural to us. it's an integral part of conversation for sharing information and even building of community.

For example: In my neighborhood there was a couple what had a baby. The baby always at night cried any they don't know why the baby cried. Then One day the baby stopped crying. This was a surprise for the neighborhood. Then next day My mom told me that They had hired one person who helps their take care of the baby. My mom said that she had also hired a babysitter to take care of me.